OFFSCREEN PARIS

Location: Grand Garage Haussmann, 43 Rue de Laborde, 75008 Paris

Housed in a truly unique space, Grand Garage Haussman, is one of the most exciting recent initiatives - Offscreen, presenting a curated selection of solo shows dedicated to installations, still or moving image. The structure of traditional art fairs doesn't allow for more complex - and often more interesting - works to be properly staged hence Offscreen's format is truly innovative and promising. The 2023 selection of artists - Rosa Barbara, Stefan Bruggemann, Elyn Zimmerman, Thibault Brunet, Daniel Canogar and more - couldn't be more appealing, and I can't wait to see the works in a brutalist setting of a former car park. Great sponsors - Dior, Lomarb Odier, Wallpaper and the Island - also promise a fun party and a thoughtful programme. Indeed, Scott Stover will talk all things philanthropy and arts ecosystem with Russell Tovey, Aindrea Emelife and Lawrence van Hagen - a series of breakfast conversations not to be missed.
